SEXUAL AND REPRODUCTIVE HEALTH

For New York City, where nearly a fifth of the population lives below the poverty line, and more than 700,000 adults lack health insurance, access to SRH services is essential to positive health outcomes. PHS' Sexual and Reproductive Health work crosses three major areas: we operate two health centers in some of the poorest neighborhoods of New York City serving 4,000 women, men, and adolescents each year; we connect with over 5,000 teenagers annually in public schools to provide SRH education and support; and we build the capacity of primary care practices across the city to provide contraceptive information and services.

FAMILY HEALTH

Family Support Services

We offer a variety of services to support pregnant and parenting families so they have the tools they need to give their babies the best possible start in life. Our Nurse Home Visitors, Family Support Workers, and Community Health Workers offer one-on-one health and parenting education in the home, and group support during pregnancy and through early childhood. These services are voluntary and free. We also provide support to expecting and parenting adolescents and young adults by connecting them to services throughout all five boroughs. We are located in Brooklyn, Queens, and Staten Island.

TOBACCO CONTROL

Smoke-Free Housing

All New Yorkers deserve to breathe clean, smoke-free air where they live, work, and play. Our NYC Smoke-Free team works to protect the health of New Yorkers through tobacco control policy, advocacy, and education. Our work in smoke-free housing aims to increase smoke-free protections in housing to ensure no family or child is forced to endure harmful secondhand smoke pollution in their home. We have staff in the Bronx, Brooklyn, Manhattan, Queens and Staten Island who can provide guidance and technical assistance on making your condo, co-op, or rental smoke-free.

This institution is an equal opportunity provider and employer.
